RUMORS OF PEACE.

A dispatch from Louisville to the Cincinnati Enquirer of yesterday read as follows:

"Gentlemen, you need not give yourselves any concern about opportunities to race next season. You have stood by us and we will protect your interests in the future. You may rest assured that you will have as much racing next year as you have had this season."

"Thus spoke Captain Tilles, of the St. Louis Racing Triumvirate, Cella, Tilles and Adler, to a group of horsemen at Douglas Park this afternoon. The little turf magnate arrived here this morning, spent the afternoon at Douglas Park and returned to St. Louis tonight. His mission to this city was simply to assure the horsemen at Douglas Park Racing Association that the St. Louis tracks will be loyal to the Turf Congress Association and those who by participating in the racing at such tracks had come under the ban of the Western Jockey Club. In answer to the question, Captain Tilles said that there had been no conference between them (Cella, Tilles and Adler) and the Chicago track owners who dominate the Western Jockey Club, and that while overtures had been made to them from the other side, affairs were no nearer a settlement now than they were three months ago. He left it to be inferred that he is not at all sanguine that the two factions will come together. He reiterated the recent declaration of his associate, Sam Adler, that the St. Louis tracks will become members of the Western Jockey Club only on condition that the other Turf Congress tracks be let in on a fair basis, and that their adherents be restored to the same standing they had when there was only one turf governing body in the west."

"While Captain Tilles did not say much, your representative has it straight that the Western Jockey Club is ready to comply with the demands of the St. Louis people as far as the other Turf Congress tracks and the outlawed horsemen are concerned. The assimilation of the two rival western turf-governing bodies all hinges now on the representation in the Board of Stewards of the Jockey Club. The constitution of that organization provides for a board of seven stewards. A vacancy occurred in the board when the St. Louis Fair Grounds passed into the possession of the opposition, Aull, of course, ceasing to be a member of the board. The Western Jockey Club is willing to allow the St. Louis magnates to have one steward, to take the place made vacant by Mr. Aull's withdrawal. It also proposes to let Memphis and Nashville together have one member on the Board of Stewards, thus giving Nashville an equal voice with Memphis in western turf control. The St. Louis people, however, insist on having two representatives on the board, one for each of their two plants. To comply with their demands in this matter either a vacancy must be created in the Board of Stewards as it is now constituted or the constitution of the Jockey Club must be revised and the membership of the board be increased to eight. That is exactly the state of affairs at present. The impression obtains in Turf Congress circles that the constitution of the Western Jockey Club will be revised to give St. Louis two representatives on the Executive Board of that organization, in which event there will be an end to the clash that has existed this season."

In comment on the foregoing it may be said that St. Louis and Cincinnati papers have had much to say recently of the probability of the amalgamation of the conflicting western turf bodies, one St. Louis newspaper even asserting positively that all details have been agreed upon, together with the remarkable and impossible statement that W. F. Rogers is to be the Jockey Club starter. Hereabouts little or nothing is known of any negotiations, but certainly all true lovers of racing will be pleased if a solution of existing turf troubles is reached.

The constitution and by-laws of the Western Jockey Club provides for a membership of thirty racing organizations, which shall be governed by seven stewards. There is now one stewardship vacancy. It could be easily filled at the approaching annual meeting by a steward from St. Louis to represent the three tracks there. It is assumed in this that any settlement of the situation would involve the protection of Kinloch in its right to have a reasonable number of racing days assigned to it annually. Next to Chicago St. Louis is by far the most important racing point in the west and under now existing conditions its meetings are greatly hampered and injuriously affected because owners of the best horses cannot afford to risk debarment from the tracks controlled by the Western Jockey Club. Any concessions that will restore St. Louis tracks to their former standing will be welcomed by all the turfmen of the west in a body. DAILY RACING FORM heartily hopes that the next annual meeting of the Western Jockey Club will be marked by a restoration of peaceful relations between all western turf organizations, that St. Louis will be given the vacant stewardship and that Nashville, Highland Park, Little Rock and Newport will be given membership or a license.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Starters under all systems have had their own troubles, as the following tale of a time when the barrier was undreamed of will serve to illustrate:

In 1884, at Point Breeze Park, Philadelphia, the starts were made with the drum, from which of course there was no recall. At the post for an $800 stake race the starter hit the drum so hard that he smashed in the drumhead, and the muffled sound it made was heard by only one jockey out of the ten contestants. This boy kept right on to the first turn, where, not seeing the others coming after him, he eased up and started to go back to the post.

Zeb Ward the old-time turfman partner of Prince McGrath, and at one time manager of the Little Rock Penitentiary, in Arkansas, owned the horse that had gone on. Rushing over to the starter, the big six-footer from Kentucky observed: "Excuse me sah, but did you hit that drum, sah?" At which the starter held up the smashed drumhead to Ward, with the answer: "Don't that look as if I had hit that drum, sah?"

Big Zeb dusted at once for his boy, whom he waved frantically on, and the latter took Ward's colt over the course. Ward claimed the stake money, which was awarded to him. But all bets were declared off and a new race run between the horses that had stood at the post. But should such a case occur now bets would go with the horse, and there would be about the most turbulent scene ever witnessed on a metropolitan track.

The New York Sun of last Monday says anent the no-recall system:

"Strong advocates of the no-recall system still insist that it will work out successfully and that it should not be tinkered with. They say that both Starter Fitzgerald and Starter Dwyer have done successful work with the no-recall flag and that it is Starter Cassidy's fault if he cannot give satisfaction. While the controversy continues, however, the betting public waxed impatient. Said a prominent bookmaker recently:

"If the public should some day organize it-of the betting ring for a single race, the no-recall system would be abolished. The book-makers are organized and if the system was considered by them to be injurious, you can bet they would have it done away with immediately."

If Senator T. D. Sullivan completes his new racetrack at Jamaica there will probably be a shake-up in the dates to be allotted next season by the Jockey Club. But just now there is some doubt as to whether Sullivan and his friends will proceed with the work at the new race-course. Just what the hitch is cannot be learned, but rumor has it that the recent election has had something to do with the plans of the Tammany Hall politicians who have racing proclivities. There is considerable bitter feeling between the Aqueduct people and the Sullivan crowd because of a sneaking suspicion that the latter went to supplant the Queens County Jockey Club's track with the new course at Jamaica.—New York Sun.

A list of winnings in stakes and purses of the leading eastern owners this year shows that W. C. Whitney is at the top with $103,440. Goldsmith has been the heaviest winner for Mr. Whitney, as he captured in all $37,850. Blue Girl's winnings amounted to $24,455, when running in the Whitney colors, while Nasurtium, for whom Mr. Whitney paid $50,000, won only $3,850. King Hanover won $14,680. John E. Madden did nearly as well on the season, his share of the stakes and purses being $103,115. Blue Girl won $40,130 for him and Yankee took $39,130, including the rich Futurity. Frank Farrell's horses, especially Blues, Bonniabert and The Musketeer, won $49,110. Green B. Morris comes next with $46,135, of which his two-year-old Cunard won $11,155. Clarence H. Mackay's share was $40,737. Heno won $20,237 for him and Banastar $8,020. The Pepper Stable captured $40,600, Whiskey King being the most successful horse with $14,305. James R. Keene's winnings amounted to $38,001, of which the great Commando corralled $17,141 before he broke down. Water Color won $25,330 for J. B. Haggis, whose total was $30,405.

ROBERT WADDELL LEFT HERE.

Almost all the horsemen that had stables at the Lakeside track were busy yesterday making preparations to take their horses away. In a few days the course will be almost deserted, one of the few horses to remain behind being Robert Waddell whose injured foreleg still gives him great pain. "Pa" Bradley shipped his entire string to Bennings yesterday morning, but the great gelding was in no condition to be removed and will be left in charge of his faithful negro attendant "Possum" until the injured leg heals sufficiently to warrant standing a trip on the cars. Last Monday the Derby winner was able to rest his weight on the strained leg but yesterday morning it became exceedingly tender—so tender that he hobbled around in his stall on three legs in great pain.

A special train composed of twenty-one cars left for New Orleans this morning capable of carrying 272 horses. Almost all the animals that had been racing at the Indiana track left on this train. The horsemen who took their strings away with them are as follows:

E. D. Greenwood, Hedges and Harrison, G. B. Havill, J. O. Keene, J. F. Holt, E. M. Jackson, Frank Lightfoot, Mrs. H. Morgan, E. Rodgers, T. Settle & Co., P. Stanton & Co., E. L. Talley, F. F. Warner & Co., Wright & Co., M. T. Skiles, G. Sprout, G. B. Grimes, M. Kahn, Mrs. C. Van Dusen, R. Rowe, W. R. Baker & Co., J. A. Glasscock, P. J. Moss & Co., Burke & Owabey, D. Kinney, W. Lister, Dave Waldo, C. DeWitt,

BESSIE SPAHR.

Concerning the crack filly Bessie Spahr, her former trainer Capt. Buck Franklin said recently:

"Some surprise was expressed that so good a filly should not have been raced until fall, but it was not a case of dodging the cracks when they were at their best to get a soft spot for her and make a 'clean up,' as they say these days. But for a bit of bad luck she would have been cut loose at Washington Park when at a long price a sure enough 'clean up' could have been made. When I took the Clay & Woodford horses at Latonia everything in the barn had throat trouble with the exception of old Pink Coat. That kept Bessie and the other two-year-olds from racing at the Hawthorne and Harlem spring meetings. I went right to doctoring them and got them in good shape at Chicago. One morning at Washington Park I worked Bessie five-eighths of a mile with a strapping boy up in 59½. Don't you think that would have got the money anywhere? We decided to start her in a race at five-eighths which came up a few days later, but fortune was once more against us. When we went over to Washington Park they gave us our end of a barn, the other end of which Johnny McHale had. Well, sir, when everything seemed to be looking the brightest I found one morning on going to the stable that about all McHale's horses had laryngitis, and our three two-year-olds all contracted the disease again. That, of course, put Bessie out of business and that explains why she did not run until the fall meeting at Harlem. With any kind of luck we would have won a number of races with her before we ever got to start her, for, as I say, fit and as she was when she worked that remarkable five eighths for me, I believe that she would have given Abe Frank and Endurance by Right, at their best, trouble to beat her. Oh, no. Mr. Cook got a grand and a cheap mare in her. She could go a distance too, for on two different occasions she worked a mile for me in 1:41, and each time she had up more weight than she carried in either of her races. I am sure she will be a great three-year-old—one of the best in the country."

"No, she is not in any of next year's Oaks. How did it happen that she was not entered? Why, the truth is, when it was time to make entries for the big filly events of 1902 Mr. Woodford did not think she was of stake caliber. In fact, he did think she was of much account. Why, I said to him one day when I was at his place and looked her over. 'That's a nice filly, Mr. Woodford.' 'Well, if you think so, Captain, you can have her for $300,' he replied. But I had just come up from New Orleans, and after a bad winter did not have $300, and I couldn't take what I knew was the greatest bargain that was ever offered me. I told him, though, that he would find that he had greatly underestimated the value of the filly, and, of course, time has borne me out in my judgment. Well, Clay & Woodford have five nice yearlings now, and among them is a half brother to Bessie Spahr, a slashing colt by Flying Dutchman—Elizabeth H. I tell you if nothing goes wrong with that fellow he will be one of the cracks next season. Old Pink Coat bids fair to duplicate his successes of the past three seasons again next year. He went into winter quarters as fine as silk."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

While riding in the race for the Naseby Handicap plate at the autumn meeting of the Northampton and Pytchely Hunt yesterday Sam Loates, the noted English jockey, had a fall, breaking his thigh and several of his ribs. His condition is serious. Next to Madden, Loates has the largest number of winning mounts on the English turf this year.

Dale was the best all around boy riding around St. Louis this year, either on two-year-olds or aged horses, sprints or distance of ground, says the Republic of that city. He can heel a horse better than any boy seen there since the days of Isaac Murphy. O'Neil is thought to be the best of the light weights.

Bill Garrett, the famous long shot horse, arrived in England recently. His owner, J. L. West, may start him next season over the jumps, a game for which he appears well fitted.

The backing of H. S. Tobacco last Tuesday was the heaviest on any one horse at the present Latonia meeting. He was beaten by Jim Nap, a rank outsider.

Lizella, capably ridden ran a good race, finished strongly and was much the best. O'Connor had her under restraint all the way. Winner—Br. g. by Duncombe—Atlanta II. Went to post at 3:57. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Billy Moore swerved badly under punishment in the stretch, losing some ground, but rallied and finally won easily enough. The Singer showed the most early speed, but was taken into the worst going in the stretch and tired near the finish. Senator Matts ran a fairly good race. Mortgage is of little account at present. Hohenlohe is very short.

CALIFORNIA AUTUMN RACING.

In accordance with its annual custom DAILY RACING FORM here prints a condensed table showing the results of the racing at the California State Fair at Sacramento last September and at the two great fairs that followed after, the Golden Gate Fair at Oakland and the Agricultural Fair at Los Angeles. Many good performances were recorded at these meetings and students of form will find these tables extremely useful in connection with the racing now going on at Oakland.

He was shut off several times on the turns but came around his field in the stretch and got up under a good finish by Cochran in the last couple of strides. The Puritan was overweighted but showed speed under an easy ride. Honolulu appeared like the winner a furlong from home but hung when called on. The others ran poor races.

He could have won by ten lengths had his jockey allowed him to do so. Jake Weber about ran his race and had no mishaps. Tremar was badly handled. Eleven Bells came with a rush and would have won in another stride. She would have won easily anyhow had Troxler not swinging wide into the stretch. Nettie Regent was badly messed about and should have been much closer up. Blonde Grayson faltered when her chance of winning seemed best. Cherry Head refused to extend herself.
